Description:

A. Features of PET flakes granulator:

This series of extruders are specially designed for PET bottles flakes. With good performance, high and stable output, less power consumption cost per kilogram, and easy to operate.

This machine can carry out ideal viscosity of PET without complicated precrystallization dryer system. Only a bit IV will be reduced. It can improve IV in the condition of adding some suitable additive.

B. Applications fields of PET flakes granulator:

PET flakes pelletizing line is applied in PET waste flakes which is washed.

Through extrusion, cutting and dry process, the waste bottle will become to be pellets.

The pellets are widely used in plastic industry, like sheet, and profile production.

From feeding system to final products, we can design and work out a complete system to satisfy all of your production requirements.

We will provide you with a pelletizing system in good quality and price as per your requirements.
